

Jerilyn

I'm proud to work for a company that values and respects differences and similarities.

I'm a bookworm who loves books about history, how-to/problem solving books for home and work projects and mysteries. I love to learn new things, and I especially love books that challenge my preconceived notions.

An employee for nearly a decade, I'm also a wife, mother, learner, gardener and artist.